Let's Start!

Sally is back in Boston. It's good to be home!

Learning Outcome

Describe rooms, homes and objects in buildings in common social and work situations.

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about travel and transportation.
- I can make and respond to requests.
- I can compare two things.

Ask your partner:

- Do you like traveling by plane?
- Are you a nervous flyer? Are you relaxed?
- What do you like to do onboard a plane?

Let's Explore!

Sally is jet lagged after her flight. She can't find the baggage claim* area.

* You are "jet lagged" when you feel tired after a long flight across time zones.

 The place in the airport where you go to collect your bags after a flight.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

- Sally: Excuse me ... ?
Airport attendant: Yes, how may I help you?
Sally: Would you mind telling me where the baggage claim area is?
Airport attendant: Not at all. Take the escalator down to the Arrivals Hall.
Sally: The escalator right here?
Airport attendant: Yes. Follow the sign and look for your flight number on the big screen.
Sally: Thank you. Could you tell me where the restroom is?
Airport attendant: Certainly. It's at the end of the baggage claim area. Are you feeling ok?
Sally: Yes ... it's just the jet lag. I need time to adjust to the time zone.
Airport attendant: It always takes a few days. Where did you depart from?
Sally: Cairo. It was a long flight. We had a bit of turbulence as well, so I didn't sleep at all.
Airport attendant: Boston is 6 hours behind Cairo.
Sally: It's also much colder! I had to wear a jacket in the line for border protection!
Airport attendant: Aw, I'm sorry. Would you like a pamphlet about dealing with jet lag?
Sally: Sure ...

Let's Practice!

Sally has a few requests!

Instructions: Practice reading the sentences aloud. Check your pronunciation with your instructor.

1. Would you mind telling me where the baggage claim area is?
2. Not at all. Take the escalator down to the Arrivals Hall.
3. Could you tell me where the restroom is?
4. Certainly. It's at the end of the baggage claim area.

Let's Practice!

Sally is happy to be back on solid ground after a bumpy flight!

Instructions: Read the dialogue again. Fill in the blanks with the missing words. Use: time zone, jetlag, turbulence, border protection.

1. It's just the _____.
2. I need time to adjust to the _____.
3. We had a bit of _____ as well, so I didn't sleep at all.
4. I had to wear a jacket in the line for _____!

Extension Activity

Do you know how to deal with jet lag? Write a pamphlet about it!

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Go online and look for a list of tips on how to deal with jet lag.
- Write down a list of 8-10 tips.
- Share the tips with your partner. Listen to your partner's tips.

Target Words

- time zone (noun): an area of the globe where clocks show the same time
e.g. Boston is in the Eastern Time Zone and is 6 hours behind Cairo.
- jet lag (noun): physical effects you feel after a long trip across several time zones
e.g. I don't deal with jet lag very well.
- pamphlet (noun): a short booklet containing information about a subject e.g. I need to pick up a pamphlet on how to deal with jet lag.
- flight (noun): the process of traveling through the air e.g. The flight to Boston was long and tiring.
- turbulence (noun): an area of rough air during flight
e.g. The plane entered an area of turbulence.
- to adjust (verb): to get used to something
e.g. I need a few days to adjust to the time zone.
- border protection (noun): the process of showing your passport before entering a country
e.g. The line for border protection was very long.

Learning Points

Making and Responding to Requests

When you make and respond to requests, remember to be polite!

Making Requests	Responding to Requests
Would you ... ? I'd like to ... Would you mind (if) ... ? Would ... be okay? I was wondering if ... Could you ... ? Do you think you could ... ? Is there any chance you could ... ?	Sure, I'll ... Sure, I'd be glad to ... No, not at all. Certainly. Yes, of course. I'll see what I can do. I don't mind at all. Of course we can ... No problem.

Examples:

- Ann: Would you mind telling me where the baggage claim area is?
- Attendant: Not at all. Take the escalator to your right.

Learning Points

Comparative and Superlative Adjectives

You use a comparative to compare somebody or something to one other person or thing. You use a superlative to compare somebody or something to the whole group that he, she or it belongs to.

- You use than after the comparative
- You add the in front of the superlative form to describe people, places and things

Look at the chart for information on how to form the comparative and superlatives:

Adjective	Comparative	Superlative	Form
cold	colder (than)	the coldest	Most adjectives: +-er, +-est
big	bigger (than)	the biggest	1-syllable words, with a consonant + a vowel + a consonant (cvc) at the end, double the final consonant + -er
late	later (than)	the latest	Adjectives ending in -e: +-r, +-st
happy	happier (than)	the happiest	2-syllable adjectives ending in -y: +-ier, +-iest
attractive	more attractive (than)	the most attractive	3+-syllable adjectives: more + adjective + than or the most + adjective
good bad	better (than) worse (than)	the best the worst	Irregular comparisons

Examples:

- Boston is colder than Cairo.
- Cairo is bigger than Boston.
